

Wild Wetlands

Beavers are the largest rodent in California and can weigh up to 70 pounds! They are herbivores (only eat plants) and will build stick houses with a special underwater entrance. They can hold their breath for 15 minutes! Beavers are brown with orange front teeth.

Beaver Tracks

American Avocets are birds that like to live by shallow water. They have black and white feathers on their wings and back, and rusty red on their head and neck. They use their special beak on the top of the water to catch insects and tiny crustaceans to eat!
